Bar Admission Checklist

The District of Columbia (DC) bar admissions process is lengthy and intricate, but we're here to guide you. There are many steps involved as the date of the exam nears. Start at least a year (or more, if you can) in advance of the bar exam date. Here's what you need to know and do for bar admission in the District of Columbia:

Create an NCBE Account | Before Petition

My NCBE Number

All law students are required to create an NCBE Account that comes with a unique NCBE Number for identification purposes. You will need this number to be able to take the MPRE (see below) and the MBE (Multistate Bar Exam), which are developed by the NCBE (National Conference of Bar Examiners). The MBE is administered on day two of the DC Bar Exam.

Most students create an NCBE account when registering for the MPRE. Register with the NCBE at: <https://auth.ncbex.org/account/create>

Take the MPRE | Multistate Professional Responsibility Exam

We recommend taking the MPRE any time during your 2L year or as early in your 3L year as possible. DC requires an MPRE scaled score of 75. Scores range from 50 to 150.

The MPRE is a two-hour, 60-question multiple-choice exam developed by the NCBE and administered in the spring, summer, and fall. When registering for the MPRE, students can select one of two dates offered at a time (see chart below) on a first come, first served basis.

MPRE dates	Registration deadline (fee: $160)	Scan for more information
November 7 or 8, 2024	September 18, 2024
March 26 or 27, 2025	January 23, 2025
August 20 or 21, 2025	June 18, 2025
November 13 or 14, 2025	September 25, 2025
